

XM satellite radio is the best thing that has happened to the airwaves in many, many years.
The services they provide are clear, consistent and credible.

They want to provide traffic and weather?! Step aside local radio for some serious competition.

XM's entry into this arena is to be applauded. Leave them alone!

John Fitzgerald